(XXVII^th YEAR.) THE (N°. 1401.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1772.

COPENHAGEN, April 12.

AT length ſome particulars have tranſpired of what paſſed before the great Commiſſion on the 6th inſtant, which day will be memorable in the hiſtory of this kingdom. The Queen Carolina is condemned to perpetual impriſonment, and conſequently her marriage with the King our Sovereign is nulled. Though the Court has not yet thought proper to publiſh this ſentence, it is nevertheleſs true. Counſellor Bang read the accuſations againſt the Queen, which ſeemed to be pretty numerous, as they filled four ſheets of paper. The Attorney General Uldahl ſpoke in favour of the accuſed party, and acquitted himſelf with ſo much eloquence in the cauſe of the young Queen, that he drew tears from the whole audience. The five following queſtions gave riſe to great debates amongſt the Judges: 1ſt, How the divorce was to be performed? 2dly, What title the Queen ſhould have after the diſſolution of the marriage? 3dly, How to act with reſpect to the young Princeſs? 4thly, What penſion ſhould be allowed the Queen's impriſonment? The three ladies, who are to accompany the Queen in her impriſonment, which will probably be in the Caſtle of Aalbourg, are to engage by oath not to abſent themſelves from the priſon after eight o'clock in the evening in ſummer, and ſix in the winter.

The whole Court cannot but lament the fate of this unhappy Princeſs, who is not yet 21 years of age, and condemned to perpetual impriſonment. It is aſſured the King is going to viſit his German dominion, and that he will ſet out the 23d inſtant. We are impatient to know the fate of the other ſtate priſoners, to whom the preſent circumſtances ſeem to preſage nothing very favourable.

Mr. Keith having expreſſed a deſire to return home, was anſwered that he might go whenever he thought proper. At the ſame time a courier was diſpatched to Baron Dieden for his recal. It is ſaid this Miniſter is ordered to declare to the Britiſh Court, that the Queen will be permitted to return to her own country, upon condition that ſhe will give ſecurity never to ſet foot again in Denmark.

PARIS, April 17. The Porte has conſented to the following conditions: 1. That the holding of a congreſs ſhould be no longer delayed. 2. That this congreſs ſhould be held in Walachia. 3. That the Danube ſhould ſerve as a boundary to both armies during the congreſs. 4. That in caſe the negociations for peace ſhould prove fruitleſs, the armiſtice ſhould nevertheleſs continue for the ſpace of three months, reckoning from the day of the breaking up of the congreſs.

LONDON,

April 11. If there is any foundation for the report, that we are now going to purſue compulſive meaſures with the Court of Denmark, nothing can be more abſurd; it ſhould have been determined on the firſt intelligence, either that the Queen was to be conſidered here entirely as a ſubject of Denmark, or entirely as ſiſter to the King of Great Britain. But it ſeems we did not chooſe to acknowledge the former, nor dare to avow the latter. There is ſomewhere or other in our ſtate a fund of abſurdity or inconſiſtence, of ill governed pride, and abject ſubmiſſion, not to be equalled in the moſt arbitrary ſtate. In a country where Juſtice, to ſay the beſt, is adminiſtered in the moſt ſummary and deſpotic manner, where the conſtitution is unſullied, and where there is the greateſt reaſon to ſuſpect a formal deſign of changing the ſucceſſion to the Crown, we have ſuffered an unfortunate Queen to languiſh in priſon more than two months, without any guarantee for the ſafety of her perſon, than the feeble remonſtrances of a ſingle man, who, though highly ſpirited and indefatigable, has nothing in his power but to remonſtrate; while her character has received a ſtain, which, though ſhe be innocent, can never be eraſed out. The myſterious ſilence, in which every thing relating to her has been kept, has irrevocably fixed the ſtain of ſuſpicion upon her.—Unhappy Princeſs! The blunders we are guilty of ought to be merely our own. Ridiculous as they have been, they have never, till now, been deſtructive except to ourſelves.

April 14. The Engliſh maſters and pilots of the Ruſſian ſquadron, who went from England under the command of Rear Admiral Elphinſtone, and are returned, have not been able to obtain their wages.

The method Lord Mansfield takes to ſhorten the liſt of appeals, which ſtands for hearing before the Houſe of Lords, is highly commendable: the calling in of Council by twelve o'clock, gets rid of a cauſe in one day, which otherwiſe muſt continue two days in hearing; and we wiſh that his example may be followed by every Speaker and Chancellor, when the buſineſs of the Courts below does not prevent them ſitting at ſo early an hour; they will be ſure of receiving the prayers and good wiſhes of every perſon, who, by neceſſity, is compelled to bring an appeal before that auguſt aſſembly.

The ſcarcity is ſo great in Norway, that the peaſants are driven to eat even the barks of trees, and in the towns the artiſans are driven to ſtill greater ſtraits.

Laſt week the bills of the two greateſt houſes perhaps in the European world were refuſed to be done at the Bank, and the alarm occaſioned by this circumſtance is ſo general, that many houſes of large property muſt, it is apprehended, ſtop through a want of immediate circulation.

The alarm occaſioned by the extraordinary conduct of the Bank is not confined to England only, but has extended to the Continent; and judicious people much fear that foreigners will immediately draw their money from our funds, ſince the fountain head of credit thus ſtrangely ſhuts up one of the principal ſtreams of commerce, and leaves a channel entirely which it furniſhed at all times with the greateſt avidity.

April 15. From a correſpondent at Liſbon we learn, that for ten weeks paſt they have had extreme bad weather of rain, hail, and tempeſtuous wind, inſomuch, that not one out of eleven ſhips, waiting for fruit, have a ſingle cheſt on board; and that the common people are in a moſt ſtarving and deplorable condition, cutting and eating the green corn.

April 16. It is ſtrongly talked of at the weſt end of the town, that his Grace the Duke of Argyle will occupy an important poſt in the Adminiſtration before the breaking up of Parliament.

A noble Lord has declared, that a war with both France and Spain cannot be avoided many months longer.

Since laſt ſummer no fewer than ſeven veſſels have been ſeized by the Spaniards off Cuba, on pretence of illicit trade.

Friday laſt the grand-daughter of an amiable old Duke eloped with a Captain of the Guards; the moſt diligent purſuit has been made after them, but to no purpoſe.

A rumour prevails in many knowing places about town, that the Grand Seignior has for ſome time had a promiſe, which he can rely upon, from ſome power, which is not yet made publick, of joining him this ſummer, which is the only reaſon of his backwardneſs in coming to an accommodation with the Ruſſians. In all probability, by next Chriſtmas all Europe will be involved in a war.

A letter from Cadiz ſays, that 6000 troops, with a ſuitable quantity of military ſtores, &c. embarked in Cadiz Bay, on the 26th ult. for South America.

April 18. In our laſt Saturday's paper we mentioned, that his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Glouceſter had held a conference with his Holineſs the Pope in an open garden; we are now enabled to give a more circumſtantial account of that interview. It muſt then be known, that the Pope, on every Aſh-Wedneſday, deals out the holy aſhes to the Cardinals; the Duke of Glouceſter went to ſee this ceremony; after it was over, the Pope went into a room in which he generally drinks coffee; a door from his chapel leads into his coffee-room, and the coffee-room opens into the great garden, where Pope Benedict firſt received his Spaniſh Majeſty whilſt he was King of Naples. It was in this garden the Pope firſt had a conference with the Duke of Glouceſter, which we may ſafely conclude was highly intereſting to his Holineſs, ſince we learn, that on his Royal Highneſs's return to his own hotel, he there found a magnificent preſent from the Pope, conſiſting of a fine collection of coppers of antique and modern Rome, by the famous Piraneſi, beſides a picture of Cleopatra, and another of Virtue, in Moſaic work; and on the Friday following the Vatican Church was illuminated from one end to the other, in honour of his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Glouceſter, in the ſame manner as it had been illuminated about three years ago, in honour of the preſent Emperor of Germany.

The Ruſſians, extremely jealous of having his Pruſſian Majeſty their neighbour, have ſignified in form, that they cannot ſit down as idle ſpectators, ſhould he make any attempts for the appropriation of Dantzick and Royal Pruſſia. A war in the eaſt of Germany is likely to proceed from the enſuing ſummer.

The haughtineſs of the Turkiſh Emperor has got the better of the neceſſities of his affairs. Having repented of the powers with which he inveſted his Miniſter to the Ruſſian General, an expreſs arrived at Jaſſy, before the preliminaries were actually ſigned; ſo that another campaign is inevitable. The greateſt preparations poſſible are making on both ſides.

April 21. When the motion relative to the corn bill was under conſideration in a great aſſembly on Wedneſday laſt, it was urged, among many other arguments in its favour, "That the effect of regulating the importation and exportation, by a fixed ſcale and ſyſtem, would keep the price of wheat at or about 5s. 6d. the buſhel at an average, and all other grain in proportion; that the farmer knowing, from a fixed rule, what he had to depend upon as to a market, and the ſale of his produce, would be no longer diſcouraged and embarraſſed in cropping his ground, but would ſet about in earneſt to raiſe that produce, which he was aſſured he had an encouraging and free market for; that the merchant, having a fixed ſcale of prices, and leading to an aſſured rule for importing and exporting, would know how to ſpeculate, and would ſpeculate accordingly; the conſequence of which would be, that when an importation became really neceſſary, it would really take effect, which has not been, and never will be, the caſe by our temporary laws.

April 22. We are credibly informed, that the intention of ſending a fleet to the Baltic is poſtponed, on account of ſome favourable advices received from Denmark, and that the ſtocks roſe yeſterday very conſiderably on the occaſion.

April 23. The Parliament will riſe the 22ſt of May.

Jonathan Britain, who is now at Sherburne to take his trial at the next ſeſſion, declares, in the moſt ſolemn manner, that he will ſeal the truth of his teſtimony relative to the fire at Portſmouth with his blood—that all he requires is a publick hearing on the affair, and if he cannot prove every tittle of his information, he is content and will cheerfully ſubmit to any puniſhment he may be thought to deſerve—that if any gentleman of character will inſure him a hearing, either at the bar of the Houſe of Commons or in a publick Court of Juſtice, he will deliver up all his papers into their hands.—But, a correſpondent ſays, it is too evident, that the preſent trial for petty forgeries is deſigned to ſuppreſs an enquiry into the great national concern, the Portſmouth conflagration.

The Queen of Denmark, we hear, by a letter which comes from the Britiſh Miniſter at Copenhagen, has never once loſt her fortitude in the midſt of all the dangers that ſurrounded her; though a woman, and a very young one, ſhe ſtill maintained all the dignity of her rank, and determined to die at leaſt with heroiſm, if ſhe could not live with reputation.

Accounts from Corſica inform us of a moſt cruel war being carried on in that iſland between the French and miſerable natives; a war reſembling the hunting parties of ſavages on one ſide, and the brutal reſiſtance of enraged beaſts of prey on the other; who, as ſoon as thoſe bloody conflicts are over, retreat again to their dens, caverns, and inacceſſible fortreſſes.

We can aſſure the Publick, that an experiment is ſhortly to be made of a machine, invented by Dr. Dominiceti of Chelſea, by which he engages to prove, that proviſions may be dreſſed for one thouſand perſons, in three hours time, with leſs fire than is commonly uſed in a parlour grate, and in all the various methods of cookery. It is ſaid to be conſtructed on the moſt ſimple principle, and to be one of the moſt ingenious and uſeful inventions ever ſeen in this kingdom.

It is ſaid Lord North will be called up to the Houſe of Peers.—That the Seals will be offered to Lord Camden, and if he declines to Lord Chief Juſtice De Grey.

April 25. A letter from Copenhagen by yeſterday's mail ſays, That the trial of the Queen is over; ſhe is confined in the caſtle at Aalbourg, to bear the title of Majeſty, and her children are declared legitimate. Her Majeſty is allowed to take the diverſions of the country under a guard, but not to cohabit with the King. Count Struenſee and Count Brandt are found guilty; the former will be executed, and the latter baniſhed.

We are well aſſured, that, notwithſtanding the ſeeming ſlowneſs of a great perſonage to undertake the cauſe of an illuſtrious young lady of his own family, his firſt addreſs to his Miniſter, after receiving the news of her confinement, was, "Save her honour, ſave her life, and do what you pleaſe with your maſter."

Extract of a letter from Copenhagen, April 11.

"On the 9th Sir Robert Keith went to Cronenburgh, and had a conference with her Majeſty the Queen Carolina Matilda, and returned again yeſterday; ſince which, it is ſaid, he is to return to London."

Lord North, in a converſation which he lately had with a great perſonage, made uſe of the following expreſſion, which deſerves everlaſting remembrance: "Peace, Sir, is the greateſt bleſſing your people can enjoy, beſides liberty and honour; and it ſhall be my perpetual ſtudy to ſecure it, while it can be obtained conſiſtently with their freedom and their reputation."

April 27. The Duke of Cumberland wrote a very ſpirited letter to an auguſt perſonage, requeſting he might be ſent with the ſquadron lately fitting out for ſea; and as far as lay in his power, acquit himſelf of the ſervice he owed to his Sovereign and to his country.

'Tis certain, that his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland applied to his Majeſty for the command of the ſquadron fitting out for the Baltic, but his requeſt was rejected, at the inſtigation of Lord Sandwich, in conjunction with the Mansfield junto.

An order has been lately iſſued out by the French Commandant at Dunkirk, which obliges all the Engliſh ſubjects, many of whom are of good character and in capital buſineſs, to leave that place immediately.

By letters received on Saturday laſt from Northamptonſhire, and other counties in the very center of the kingdom, we are informed, that the poorer ſort of people are ſtarving in the midſt of plenty. Wheat bread they never taſte of, wheat being nine ſhillings per buſhel, but eat barley bread. Mutton and bee; are sixpense per pound and butter ninepence. God knows how these melancholy affairs will end, under the reign of the best of Kings.

April 28. This day the House of Commons met pursuant to their last adjournment; and on Thursday the Right Hon. the House of Peers will meet pursuant to their last adjournment.

No less than three expresses arrived yesterday at St. James's, from Sir Robert Murray Keith at Copenhagen.

It is said, the Ministry have received a printed Account of the trial of the Queen, and an explicit detail of all the late disturbances in Denmark, with their cause, the reasons for confining the Queen, &c. which it is hoped, for the satisfaction of many thousands, they will immediately publish.

Col. Fens is appointed Grand Master of the Household to the young Queen of Denmark, and his regiment of cavalry is ordered to be stationed in the neighbourhood of the castle of Aalbourg, the place destined for the residence of that Princess.

There is no occasion for a war with Denmark. The Danes are so sensible of our superior strength, that they will grant us every thing from the apprehensions of a war, which we could possibly obtain by actual hostilities.

We are informed, that it is stipulated, that the sum determined to be annually allowed the Queen Consort of Denmark (which is 40,000 dollars) shall be expended within the dominions of his Danish Majesty; and in case she should return to England, that she shall be presented with 10,000 dollars, and the annual appointment cease.

His Majesty now heartily repents of having lived so long at variance with his subjects. He would willingly go to war with the Danes, to vindicate the honour of his sister; but he knows the nation would not back him. This must ever be the condition of a limited Monarch, who sets his people at defiance.

We hear that the divorce which has taken place between the King and Queen of Denmark is very satisfactory to the latter and to her family; and that no farther punishment will be inflicted on her; and that there will be no rupture between this kingdom and that of Denmark, provided no further ill treatment be offered to the Queen Matilda.

They write from the Hague, that his Prussian Majesty has at this time an army consisting of 50,000 infantry, and 7,000 cavalry, fit for immediate action.

B O S T O N, June 29.

We hear that Orders are received from General Gage, for the 14th regiment, now at Castle William, to hold themselves in readiness to be removed.

WILLIAMSBURG, July 2.

The storm of wind and hail, which fell last Thursday se'nnight, has ruined many fields of wheat, and greatly damaged the young corn, in several counties up James river, as well as in new Kent and Gloucester; a number of houses were likewise thrown down on several plantations, and windows broke to pieces by the hailstones, which were remarkably large.

N E W - Y O R K, July 6.

Capt. Prince, in the Brig Liberty, in his way from Cayenne, in five weeks and two days, touched at Barbados, where he was informed, that the ship Bristol Packet, loaded with 350 hogsheads of rum, besides sugar, bound for Bristol, was, on the 2d of June, burnt to the water's edge, in Carlisle Bay, by means of a lad drawing some rum out of a hogshead with a lighted candle in his hand. The 23d of June, Capt. Prince spoke with a sloop from South Carolina, for Cape Nichola Mole, Straight, Master, in Lat. 28, Long. 67, 40, eleven days out; same day with Capt. Edward Scott, in a sloop from Cape Fear for Jamaica, twelve days out; and on the coast with a whaler, who acquainted him, that a few days before he fell in with a sloop overset, whose bottom appeared to be newly paid with pitch; the same whaler spoke with a brig from this port, bound for Jamaica, but did not learn the Captain's name.

A brig from Wilmington, in Pennsylvania, was arrived at St. Kitts, that had made a voyage from that island to the continent, and back again, in Forty Days.

Last Wednesday morning arrived here the remainder of the 3d division of the Royal Americans, under the command of Colonel Provost.

Saturday afternoon the Earl of Halifax packet, Capt. Bolderson, sailed with the mail for Falmouth.

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.

By a letter from Port au Prince, dated June 7, we are informed, that the ship King George, Capt. Armstrong, bound from Virginia to Jamaica, belonging to Messr. Hammerson and Harvey, Merchants of Virginia, was lost on Plate-wreck. The captain and crew are saved.

Since Thursday last, five or six men have died by drinking cold water while they were very warm.—— These, and many other instances of the like nature, ought to warn people against using cold water alone, at this exceeding hot season.

ANNAPOLIS, July 16.

We are authorised to inform the Publick, that the Small Pox is only in One House in this Town, the Corporation having taken every Step necessary to prevent its spreading.

On Monday Morning last departed this Life, in the Twentieth Year of his Age, Mr. Henry Arnold, a young Gentleman that, for a considerable Time past, has made the Law his principal Study, and who, from a mild and affable Deportment, deservedly gained the Esteem of all Ranks of People.

On the much lamented Death of HENRY ARNOLD, who died in his Twentieth Year, regretted by all his Acquaintance.

ACCEPT, dear Shade, the tributary Tear,
That falls spontaneous, for a Friend so dear;
In vain we weep, the cruel Doom is read,
Our Hopes are blasted, and the Friend is dead.
No longer Life would hasty Fate allow,
Too soon, the Debt of Nature's call'd for now.
See in each Eye, the tender Grief appears,
Each lov'd Companion stands dissolv'd in Tears;
The tender Mother for the Son, does mourn
So early from her lov'd Embraces torn!
O cease, and claim not Sorrow as your due,
We all demand our Share of Anguish too;
Each Breast does sympathetic Sorrows feel,
And conscious Looks the inward Pains reveal.
His honest Heart was open to a Friend,
Glad to oblige, unwilling to offend,
Quick to forgive, in Word nor Deed severe,
Was courteous, easy, civil, and sincere.
The Hand of Time alone can bring Relief,
To ease the Bosom of such Heart-felt Grief.

The People belonging to the Schooners ſeeing themſelves purſued, and being conſcious of guilt, forſook their Veſſels, and made their Eſcape to Shore. There were found on Board ſeveral Barrels of Herrings and Shad, ſome of them the very Fiſh ſtolen from me, and ſome belonging to others, who have ſince made their Property appear; there was alſo on Board a Quantity of Seine Rope, Tobacco, Ship Blocks, and ſundry other ſmall Things, which I preſume were ſtolen; the Owners, upon proving their Property, and paying their proportional Part of the Expence, may have them again; and the Veſſels (unleſs claimed by the Owners within Two Months) will be ſold by publick Vendue, to defray the Expence and Damage ſuſtained on the Occaſion.
